

Los Angeles Times

FOOD

Wednesday, October 3, 2007

RESTAURANT JOURNAL

⋮ Small bites

■ Frozen-yogurt verrines have hit Beverly Hills. Sno:LA has opened, offering seasonally changing flavors and a selection of four different verrines served in a clear cup (not plastic; rather, they're made from corn). Sort of like parfaits. For example, the chocolate "cremita" layered with Swiss chocolate sauce, fresh raspberries and flaky wafers.

244 N. Beverly Drive, (310) 274-2435